Paul J. Durham

Of Counsel | Manchester, NH

Paul assists companies, entrepreneurs, and creative professionals with varied corporate matters including business formations, drafting complex domestic and international contracts, and licensing. As a former in-house Senior Counsel for an international television network, he understands the priorities of in-house lawyers and internal management teams, and brings a practical, business-minded perspective to his legal representation. Paul takes a holistic approach to legal advice, developing a big picture understanding of an organization's objectives in order to help senior executives manage risks without losing sight of their overall vision and goals.

Paul has taught and guest lectured extensively on the subjects of business and publishing law, including at the University of New Hampshire School of Law, Southern New Hampshire University, Simmons College, and the New Hampshire Institute of Art. He is an award-winning author of books for young readers, having been honored by the New York Public Library, the American Library Association, and the Library of Congress's National Book Festival.
